

NCQA's Medicare health insurance rankings

These rankings of Medicare health insurance plans are based on data and calculations from the National Committee for Quality Assurance, a nonprofit quality measurement and accreditation organization. The rankings include all Medicare Advantage health insurance plans that are ranked by NCQA. (Note: These do not include Medigap (Medicare supplemental) plans.)

National rank shows where each ranked plan stands among all scored Medicare plans nationwide. A lower number signifies a better ranking and performance.

Overall score ranges from 1 to 100, mainly based on three performance categories—consumer satisfaction, prevention, and treatment—which are scored from 1 to 5 (higher is better). Prevention and treatment account for 60 percent of the score for all plans, consumer satisfaction, 25 percent, and NCQA accreditation, 15 percent. The overall score also determines a plan's national rank.

Consumer satisfaction indicates how well a plan performed in a survey of members about such factors as getting timely doctors' appointments, getting the care they need, and their overall assessment of their doctors and specialists.

Prevention measures the proportion of eligible members who received preventive services, such as cancer screenings and immunizations.

Treatment measures the proportion of eligible members who received the recommended care for people with conditions such as diabetes, heart disease, osteoporosis, alcohol and drug dependence, and mental illness.

Accreditation is an independent review of how well a plan does at working with doctors and patients to provide high-quality health care and at providing important consumer protections. Plans pay fees to any organization that evaluates them, including NCQA. Most plans in the rankings are accredited by the NCQA, unless noted by a footnote.

Special Needs Plans are private Medicare Advantage plans (HMOs or PPOs) designed to meet the needs of people in specific medical situations. The three main categories of Special Needs Plans are 1) plans for people with specific chronic conditions such as heart failure, diabetes, or dementia, 2) plans for people living in nursing homes or who require home nursing care, and 3) plans for people with low incomes who are eligible for both Medicare and Medicaid. Learn more about Special Needs Plans at <http://www.cms.gov/Medicare/Health-Plans/SpecialNeedsPlans/>.
